Library Hours

Effective March 4, 2008 to May 16, 2008

- Sunday: 11am - 11pm
- Monday-Wednesday: 8am - 11pm
- Thursday: 8am - 7pm
- Friday: 8am - 4pm
- Saturday: 11am - 4pm

---

Farewell Denise, Hello Amanda!

Many of you may know Denise Pan from her visits to the classroom or because she helped you at the Library’s Information Desk. After 5 years of service to the University, Denise left to pursue a tenure-track position at the University of Colorado—Denver. Amanda Samland will replace Denise beginning March 24, 2008. Amanda previously worked at the Denver Campus Library as a temp during the Fall 2007 term. She is a graduate of the University of Denver’s Master’s in Library and Information Science program. Please welcome Amanda!

---

Access the Library 24-7

Is it difficult for you to make it in to the Library because of school and work conflicts? Do you prefer doing research at home? If so, you could benefit from these services:

- Research Help (http://library.jwu.edu/denver/research/)
  Don’t know where to get started with your research? The research, subject and class guides on this site provide research assistance by pointing you to the most relevant information on heavily requested topics, and to the sources needed to complete homework assignments and projects. These pages were created to meet the research needs of Denver students.

- Databases (http://library.jwu.edu/research/databases/az.htm)
  The Denver Campus Library subscribes to over 25 general academic and subject specific databases. Find full-text articles from reputable magazines and journals. Off-campus access requires a library barcode.

- Library Catalog Recalls/Holds (http://library.jwu.edu/)
  “Request” books and DVDs through the Library Catalog. You’ll receive a notice when they are ready to be picked up at the Library's Check-Out Desk. This service does not apply to reserve items.

- AskColorado (http://www.askcolorado.org/academic/index.html)
  AskColorado is a free online research and information service for Colorado college and university students and faculty offered by Colorado academic libraries.

---

Science Resource Center

Taking a science course this term? Whether you’re taking Anatomy & Physiology, Marine Biology or Environmental Science, Science Resource Center has the information you need.

This in-depth science database provides access to 2.5 million full-text articles on hundreds of science topics, such as biology, chemistry, physics, earth science, math, environmental science, life science, medicine, space science, computer science, technology, history, science and society, science as inquiry, science-related biographies and more. Articles are organized by content type: reference, magazines, academic journals, newspapers, multimedia, and websites.

---

MLA Tip

To cite a personal interview (an interview you conducted), give the name of the person interviewed, the kind of interview, and the date(s).

Tory, Roger. E-mail interview. 17-18 May 2007.

If you are not sure how to proceed, check the MLA Handbook (Ref PN147 .G53 2003) or ask a librarian.

An MLA web guide can also be found at: http://www.library.jwu.edu/

---

Featured New Titles

Climbing the Ladder in Stilettos: 10 Strategies for Stepping Up to Success and Satisfaction at Work (HF5382.6 .L49 2006) Ten rules for a woman’s success, starting with the developing of a purpose statement to the recognition of a different kind of success via a different kind of career path. Each question is explained by its challenge, then positioned in terms of how-to-conquer strategy, along with personal anecdotes and other stories.

Women in Business: The Changing Face of Leadership (CLI HD6054.3 .W636 2007) Female executives of large companies are still in short supply in the U.S., but their number is growing. The author interviewed 22 prominent women to uncover their leadership styles, reveal their most effective practices, and find out how they broke through the glass ceiling.

Girls Guide to Kicking your Career into Gear (HF5382.6 F74 2008) Tips for women at all stages of their careers, from those wanting to rise in their industry to those itching to switch to another or to start their own business. With a friendly, encouraging tone, the authors delineate how to self-evaluate priorities, skills and career aspirations. If you're not looking out for your career, nobody is!

Book descriptions are from the Editorial Review section of Amazon.com.